EVENT CONCEPT: World Nature Conservation Day is celebrated on 28th July annually around the world to increase awareness about protecting the natural resources and to make people understand about the importance of the conservation of nature. World Nature Conservation Day recognises that a healthy environment is the foundation for a stable and productive society. This day also ensures the well-being of present and future generations.

“Earth provides enough to satisfy every man's needs, but not every man's greed.” — Mahatma Gandhi. This is an initiative to develop an attitude among the students that aims at conserving the holistic environment and such programmes will definitely lead us towards sustainable earth.
